

We have concerns if the road system can handle the large increased volume of traffic which will come with such a large development.