
Suspected entry area and travel route internally for the water causing the internal rot lower down the trunk.

