

[illegible]

QUESTION 1

_____ is a social function of a policy that has been created, but is not intended to be applied. It is a general feature of a policy that is not intended to be applied. It is a general feature of a policy that is not intended to be applied.

ANSWER 1

_____ is a social function of a policy that has been created, but is not intended to be applied. It is a general feature of a policy that is not intended to be applied.

QUESTION 2

_____ is a social function of a policy that has been created, but is not intended to be applied. It is a general feature of a policy that is not intended to be applied.

ANSWER 2

_____ is a social function of a policy that has been created, but is not intended to be applied. It is a general feature of a policy that is not intended to be applied.

[illegible][illegible]