REF 2.

We moved to the property in November 2022. with a very overgrown site.
We have been working through the site moving rubble, debris, excessive Ivy and overgrown bushes etc.

The area of fencing in question is at the front of the house and directly across from Aldi.
The front garden is our only social area and we have levelled the ground, re seeded grass and planted wild flowers.
We had no intention of erecting any fence until people walking by were throwing beer bottles and rubbish over the wall. More concerning is the bags of drugs that have been thrown over into our borders - very concerning because we have grandchildren. That for us was what made us put the fence (1.2m) on top of the wall not realising we needed planning permission.
We have no privacy from the shoppers at Aldi from 8am to 10pm Monday to Saturday and 9.45 to 4pm on Sunday. It is an extremely busy store.
The fence allows us our privacy from the customers and (in winter) the headlights from the lorries.
The fence is not blocking any line of sight or overlooking anyone else's property
I would like to add that drivers pulling out of Aldi seem to be ~~dist~~ interested what is happening in our garden and not on the road - we have witnessed several near misses.
