Supporting Statement

MAC Clinical Research is the UK's largest neuroscience research company committed totally to the recruitment and conduct of clinical trials through its own Dedicated Research Sites and staff. MAC has an extensive range of clinical research capabilities to accommodate the most complex early phase through to Phase IV trials. Our specialties include CNS diseases (e.g. Alzheimer's; Multiple Sclerosis), analgesics (acute and chronic pain) and endocrinological diseases such as diabetes.

The site in Tankersley will complement our existing portfolio of research sites creating a minimum of ten jobs with additional opportunities as the site becomes established. The same high standards employed at all our research sites will be maintained.'
