

Example machinery currently on sites that return for storage and maintenance at various periods in throughout the year, mainly winter months for long storage.

