

Joseph Bramah 1748-1814

Born Stainborough Lane Farm
on the Wentworth Castle Estate.

A pioneer of hydraulic engineering.
Prolific inventor, locksmith & engineer.
18 patents (1778-1812) incl. Hydraulic press,
flushing toilet, Bramah lock, and beer pump.

His fire pump was the first continuous pressure fire engine, one of which was built for the Wentworth Castle Estate.

He lived in London and is buried at St Mary's Paddington

BARNSELY CIVIC TRUST

