

The local infrastructure cannot cope with any more people living in this area. The roads are already congested. There are brown field alternatives available.